BRIEF ABSTRACT OF LETTER.

Recommends that a declaration may be made by Govt that Mr. Raghavachar may postpone the Local Service Exn he has to pass to the next opportunity without prejudice to his increments as they fall due or his confirmation in order that more attention may be bestowed by him upon the Financial Examination

NOTES AND ORDERS.

The papers relating to the order cited by the Comptroller have been put up in connection with G. M. 134-15-69. (Comptroller's recommendation that Mr. A. N. Raghavachar may be allowed to draw Rs 250/- ~~per~~ the

If I remember right, it has already been ordered that Mr Raghavachar should pay primary attention to his Departmental Exams, without at the same time giving up his local tests and it has also been ~~ordered~~ decided that he cannot be exempted from passing the latter. I think this is a sufficient answer to the points raised by the Comptroller and no "declaration" such as that proposed by the Comptroller need be made. Further it is a ~~question~~ Consideration whether even granting

The Comptroller's proposal means virtual modification of the date Service is over. Govt have already decided not to modify it for the sake of one department. This is in effect the decision.

To

D. M. Narasinga Rao, Esq., B.A., B.L.,
Secretary to the Government of Mysore,
General Department, BANGALORE.

Sir,

Adverting to Government Order No.6260/G.M.97-14-4 dated the 20th November 1915 not exempting Mr.Raghavachar, Probationary Assistant Commissioner under training in my office from passing certain Local Service Examinations prescribed while exempting him from the general training prescribed, I beg to point out the great hardship to which Mr. Raghavachar would be put by his having to appear for two sets of examinations - Local Service and Government of India Higher Departmental - to be held in next May. The Local Service Examinations which he has to pass fall on the following dates viz., 9th, 12th and 13th May, whilst the Higher Departmental will be held from the 15th to the 18th May. In this connection, I beg to be allowed to point out that formerly there were three separate Examinations for Civil, Public Works and Railway Accounts, but at present they are combined into one Examination involving the study of a number of Codes. Apart from the hardship involved, the resultant want of efficient attention to the Accounts Examination has got to be considered, which is not desirable in the general interests of service. I do not wish that Mr.Raghavachar in order to make himself more useful to my Department by passing the Financial Examinations first should injure his own pay and prospects in service. I cannot, therefore, under the orders of Government as they stand now, ask Mr. Raghavachar not to appear for the Local Service Examinations, for which he has applied and is prepared to appear next May. But in the interests of the Accounts Department, the Gazetted staff of which is, owing to various reasons, now extremely weak, I think Mr. Raghavachar should pass his Financial tests first. I, therefore, strongly recommend that a declaration may be made by Government to the effect that Mr. Raghavachar may postpone the Local Service Examination he has to pass to the next opportunity without any prejudice to his increments as they fall due or his confirmation in order that more efficient attention may be bestowed by him upon the Financial Examination.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,
